

MARTHA GROVES PERRY

Bios (short & long)

SHORT BIO:

Martha Groves Perry is a singer-songwriter, entertainer, and multi-instrumentalist based in San Francisco, California. Her bold, original Alternative Rock has a provocative clarity with flavors of Americana and blues. Her penetrating lyrics reflect the fearless truth-telling and unbothered amusement of a seasoned, female point of view.

Some characterize Martha's music as a cross between Tom Waits, early Gwen Stefani, and the Indigo Girls, and her distinctive vocal style has been placed alongside those of Natalie Merchant, Stevie Nicks, Ricki Lee Jones, and Patti Smith. Martha captivates audiences with a magnetic stage presence alongside committed, engaging performances of her meaningful and substantive songs.

Martha is currently recording new material with Clarence Collins (Rock & Roll Hall of Fame, Little Anthony and the Imperials) and Pat Thrall (Pat Travers Band, Hughes/Thrall, Meatloaf, Asia, etc + 4 Grammy nominations). The first single from this exciting collaboration – BE RIGHT BACK – released on January 16, 2026. Two more singles are already recorded, with 3-4 additional singles in production.

Martha celebrated the 2023 release of Call Out, her second LP and third release, with a sold out album release show at Art Boutiki Music Hall in San Jose CA followed by a tour in the US midwest & southeast including a debut in Nashville.

LONG BIO:

Martha Groves Perry is a singer-songwriter, entertainer, and multi-instrumentalist based in San Francisco, California. Her bold, original Alternative Rock music has a straightforward, compelling and sometimes edgy clarity with flavors of blues and Americana. Her penetrating lyrics reflect the fearless truth-telling and unbothered amusement of a seasoned, female point of view.

Some characterize Martha's music as a cross between Tom Waits, early Gwen Stefani, and the Indigo Girls, and her distinctive vocal style has been placed alongside those of Natalie Merchant, Stevie Nicks, Ricki Lee Jones, and Patti Smith. Martha captivates audiences with a magnetic stage presence alongside committed, engaging performances of her meaningful and substantive songs.

Martha is currently recording new material with Clarence Collins (Rock & Roll Hall of Fame, Little Anthony and the Imperials) and Pat Thrall (Pat Travers Band, Hughes/Thrall, Meatloaf, Asia, etc + 4 Grammy nominations). The first single from this exciting collaboration – BE RIGHT BACK – released on January 16, 2026. Two more singles are already recorded, with 3-4 additional singles in production.

In April 2023, Martha released Call Out, her second full-length album, and again sold out Art Boutiki Music Hall in San Jose CA for her album release show. In May 2023, she and her band completed a 6-city US heartland tour including a debut in Nashville at The Bowery Vault, where she shared a bill with Greg Camp of SmashMouth. Her first full-length album, These Hands, released on March 1, 2020 and features Martha on cello and acoustic guitar as well as lead and harmony vocals. Martha began her solo career with the 2016 release of a 4-song EP titled Something Good after fronting and songwriting for MapleDream, an all-female original band she founded with her bandmates. Martha performs with her 4-piece band, The MGP Band.

Martha began her recording career as a cello soloist on classical, rock, and folk CDs by Michèle Sharik, Bev Barnett & Greg Newlon, and Mira Wooten. She sang backup and toured with Bev and Greg in 2007-2009, then fronted the Soul Providers, a dance cover band until 2011, when Martha left the band to start MapleDream.

As a vocalist and cellist, she toured with Michelle Shocked, and has also performed with Tony Lindsay, Skip Edwards, James Nash, Jesse Brewster, Rich Armstrong, Crystal Monee Hall, Uriah Duffy, and Greg Tanner Harris. In addition to her instrumental work as a cello soloist, Martha plays piano, electric and acoustic guitar, bass guitar, and percussion.
